

CSA Staff Notice 21-333
Crypto Asset Trading Platforms:
Terms and Conditions for Trading
Value-Referenced Crypto Assets with Clients

October 5, 2023

Background

On February 22, 2023, the Canadian Securities Administrators (CSA or we) published CSA Staff Notice 21-332 Crypto Asset Trading Platforms: Pre-Registration Undertakings – Changes to Enhance Canadian Investor Protection (CSA SN 21-332).¹ CSA SN 21-332 expanded upon the CSA staff’s views that “Value-Referenced Crypto Assets” or “VRCAs” may constitute securities and/or derivatives in several jurisdictions.

A VRCA is a crypto asset that is designed to maintain a stable value over time by referencing the value of a fiat currency or any other value or right, or combination thereof.

The purpose of this Notice is to provide further guidance to crypto asset trading platforms (CTPs) on our interim approach in respect of VRCAs, as referenced in CSA SN 21-332.

Although registered CTPs, and CTPs that provided a pre-registration undertaking (PRU) to the CSA in accordance with CSA SN 21-332, are prohibited from allowing clients either to trade crypto assets that are securities and/or derivatives, or to enter into crypto contracts in respect of crypto assets that are securities and/or derivatives, CSA SN 21-332 recognized that there may be uses for VRCAs by clients of CTPs. Accordingly, CSA SN 21-332 contemplated that the CSA may provide written consent for CTPs to allow their clients to continue trading, on an interim basis, certain VRCAs that seek to replicate the value of a single fiat currency where the issuer sets aside an adequate reserve of assets denominated in the fiat currency (Fiat-Backed Crypto Assets or FBCAs) and that such consent may be subject to terms and conditions imposed on the CTP and the issuer of the VRCA.

The interim approach outlined in this Notice does not apply to VRCAs that are not FBCAs, nor to any new VRCA that a CTP may wish to offer at a date after the publication date of CSA SN 21-332. Please refer to Alternative Regulatory Approaches for information on the CSA’s approach to these instruments.

Terms and Conditions

Appendix A sets out the terms and conditions for which the CSA would consent to a registered CTP, or a CTP that provided a PRU, to continue allowing their clients either to buy or deposit FBCAs or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit FBCAs. The terms and conditions for CTPs set out in Appendix A include a requirement that the issuer of the FBCA has filed an undertaking acceptable to the CSA that is substantially in the form of Appendix B. The undertaking includes a requirement that the issuer of the FBCA has filed a submission to jurisdiction and appointment of agent for service in the form of Appendix C.

We caution users of VRCAs and VRCA holders that VRCAs, including any FBCAs that satisfy the conditions in the Appendices, are subject to various risks and are not the same as fiat currency. The fact that a VRCA satisfies the conditions in the Appendices, should not be viewed as our endorsement or approval of the VRCA, nor an indication that the VRCA is risk-free or that all risks associated with VRCAs are adequately mitigated. Further, the fact that a VRCA satisfies the conditions in the Appendices does not mean that it has been distributed in accordance with Canadian securities legislation or that its issuer is otherwise in compliance with Canadian securities legislation.

The CSA will continue to monitor and assess the presence and role of VRCAs in Canadian financial markets and to work collaboratively with other Canadian regulatory authorities, as well as international organizations and standard-setting bodies, to respond to the regulatory implications and risks of such crypto assets.²

This approach in respect of VRCAs is intended to be an interim approach only, as the CSA continues its work in this area. We will consider whether any modifications to this approach are required both on an interim basis and for a longer-term framework. If there are elements of the interim approach that are impracticable for market participants, we are open to considering alternative proposals, provided that investor protection concerns are adequately addressed.

Implementation

(a) Registered CTPs

If a registered CTP does not intend to allow clients to continue to buy or deposit VRCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit VRCAs, we expect the CTP will no longer allow clients to do so by December 29, 2023.

If a registered CTP would like to continue allowing clients to buy or deposit VRCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit VRCAs, we expect the CTP will do all of the following:

² For instance, the Financial Stability Board has published on July 17, 2023, its revised High-level Recommendations for the Regulation, Supervision and Oversight of Global Stablecoin Arrangements and the International Organization of Securities Commission (IOSCO) has published for consultation on May 23, 2023, its Policy Recommendations for Crypto and Digital Asset Markets.

- As soon as possible, contact its Principal Regulator to discuss the process for implementing the terms and conditions in Appendix A;
- by December 29, 2023, no longer allow clients to buy or deposit VRCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit VRCAs, that are not FBCAs that satisfy the conditions set out in paragraph (1) of Appendix A; and
- by April 30, 2024, no longer allow clients either to buy or deposit FBCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit FBCAs, that do not comply with the terms and conditions set out in Appendix A.

(b) CTPs that provided a PRU

If a CTP that provided a PRU does not intend to allow clients to continue to buy or deposit VRCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit VRCAs, we expect the CTP will no longer allow clients to do so by December 29, 2023.

If a CTP that provided a PRU would like to continue allowing clients to buy or deposit VRCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit VRCAs, the Principal Regulator would provide consent for it to do so subject to terms and conditions in substantially the same form as in Appendix A. The steps for obtaining consent will include the following:

- As soon as possible, the CTP should contact their Principal Regulator to discuss the process for obtaining consent. The Principal Regulator may ask the CTP to provide an updated PRU with the terms and conditions in Appendix A.
- By December 29, 2023, the CTP will no longer allow clients either to buy or deposit VRCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit VRCAs, that are not FBCAs that satisfy the conditions set out in paragraph (1) of Appendix A.
- By April 30, 2024, the CTP will no longer allow clients either to buy or deposit FBCAs, or to enter into crypto contracts to buy or deposit FBCAs, that do not comply with the terms and conditions set out in Appendix A.

(c) Issuers of Fiat-Backed Crypto Assets

The terms and conditions for CTPs set out in Appendix A include a requirement that the issuer of the FBCA has filed an undertaking acceptable to the CSA that is substantially in the form of Appendix B.³ We expect issuers to provide such an undertaking to the CSA by December 1, 2023.

³ We would not expect to accept an undertaking from an issuer that commenced distributions of a VRCA after February 22, 2023 (i.e., after the issuance of CSA SN 21-332). Issuers in this situation, or that propose to distribute a VRCA, should contact their Principal Regulator to discuss compliance with Canadian securities laws.

If an issuer of an FBCA is interested in providing an undertaking, it should contact the CSA as soon as possible to discuss.

The CSA will post acceptable undertakings on the CSA website⁴ and the undertakings may also be posted on local websites maintained by members of the CSA.

The December 1, 2023, deadline does not preclude an issuer of a VRCA from giving an undertaking at a later date. However, if the issuer has not provided an acceptable undertaking, registered CTPs and CTPs that provided a PRU will be required to cease making the VRCA available to clients by December 29, 2023, or April 30, 2024, as outlined in sections (a) and (b) above.

Alternative Regulatory Approaches

We intend to implement the interim approach as outlined above. However, we welcome submissions regarding the appropriate longer-term regulation of VRCAs that would address the investor protection concerns identified in CSA SN 21-332 or alternative criteria for trading of other VRCAs by CTPs. For example, such concerns might be satisfied if a VRCA is distributed in compliance with Canadian securities legislation, including the prospectus and dealer registration requirements or under exemptions from those requirements, or an alternative regulatory regime with a comprehensive framework for the regulation of the VRCA.

Further, the terms and conditions outlined in Appendix A have been developed for FBCAs that reference the Canadian or United States Dollar and that are fully backed by a reserve of assets in the same currency. If a CTP or VRCA issuer wishes to offer a VRCA that references another currency and otherwise meets the substance of the terms and conditions, the CSA is open to considering appropriate adjustments to elements of the terms and conditions and form of undertaking to accommodate the difference in currency, such as the composition of the reserve assets or the applicable accounting principles or audit standards.

The definition of VRCA encompasses all crypto assets that are designed to maintain a stable value over time by referencing any value or right, or combination thereof. This broad definition encompasses not only crypto assets commonly referred to as “stablecoins” (including FBCAs), but also other types of crypto assets such as wrapped tokens⁵. These other crypto assets may be collateralized by non-traditional assets such as crypto assets, be used for different purposes or give rise to different risks than FBCAs. While we continue to monitor and assess the presence and role of VRCAs in Canadian capital markets and international regulatory developments, we invite CTPs or VRCA issuers that wish to offer a VRCA that is not a FBCA, to provide relevant analysis and data on the uses and the risks related to such VRCA. This analysis should include sufficient details on the due diligence that a CTP offering such a VRCA must perform to ensure that the applicable risks related to the VRCA are effectively addressed and that the CTP has sufficiently taken into account the interests of Canadian investors. The CSA will consider submissions received in developing any future regulatory changes or interim policy statements regarding VRCAs.

⁴ <https://www.securities-administrators.ca/>

CTPs or VRCA issuers should contact their Principal Regulator using the contacts below to discuss further.

Terms and Conditions for CTP Trading VRCA with Clients

Despite the requirement that [the CTP] is not permitted either to allow a client to trade crypto assets that are securities and/or derivatives, or to enter into Crypto Contracts in respect of crypto assets that are securities and/or derivatives, [the CTP] may permit a client to trade a VRCA or enter into a Crypto Contract in respect of a VRCA, subject to the following terms and conditions:

 - (i) in the reference fiat currency and is comprised of any of the following:

 - (iii) held in an account clearly designated for the benefit of the VRCA holders or in trust for the VRCA holders;
 - (iv) held separate and apart from the assets of the issuer of the VRCA and its affiliates and from the reserve of assets of any other Crypto Asset, so that, to the best of the knowledge and belief of the CTP after taking steps that a reasonable person would consider appropriate, including consultation with experts such as legal counsel, no creditors of the issuer other than the VRCA holders in their capacity as VRCA holders, will have recourse to the reserve of assets, in particular in the event of insolvency; and
 - (v) not encumbered or pledged as collateral at any time; and
- (f) the fair value of the reserve of assets is at least equal to the aggregate nominal value of all outstanding units of the VRCA at least once each day.

(2) The issuer of the VRCA makes all of the following publicly available:

- (d) a prominent statement that, due to uncertainties in the application of bankruptcy and insolvency law, in the event of the insolvency of [VRCA issuer], there is a possibility that creditors of [VRCA issuer] would have rights to the reserve assets that could outrank a VRCA holder’s rights, or otherwise interfere with a VRCA holder’s ability to access the reserve of assets in the event of insolvency;

 - (m)[for a registered CTP]
 - a statement that the statutory rights in section 130.1 of the Securities Act (Ontario), and, if applicable, similar statutory rights under securities legislation of other Applicable Jurisdictions, do not apply in respect of the Crypto Asset Statement to the extent a Crypto Contract is distributed under the Prospectus Relief in the decision dated [●];
 - [for a CTP that provided a PRU]
 - a prominent statement that the CTP has submitted an application for registration and an application for relief under securities legislation of certain jurisdictions of Canada but there is no guarantee these applications will be granted and the CTP is not currently registered under the securities or derivatives legislation of any jurisdiction of Canada and has not been granted an exemption from any requirements of securities or derivatives legislation of any jurisdiction of Canada;
 - (n) the date on which the information was last updated.
- (4) If the CTP uses the term “stablecoin” or “stablecoins” in any information, communication, advertising or social media related to the CTP’s platform and targeted at or accessible by Canadian investors, the CTP will also include the following statement (or a link to the following statement when impractical to include):
- “Although the term “stablecoin” is commonly used, there is no guarantee that the asset will maintain a stable value in relation to the value of the reference asset when traded on secondary markets or that the reserve of assets, if there is one, will be adequate to satisfy all redemptions.”
- (5) The issuer of the VRCA has filed an undertaking acceptable to the CSA in substantially the same form as set out in Appendix B of CSA Notice 21-333 Crypto Asset Trading Platforms: Terms and Conditions for Trading Value-Referenced Crypto Assets with Clients (CSA SN 21-333).
- (6) The KYP Policy of the CTP requires the CTP to assess whether the VRCA or the issuer of the VRCA satisfies the criteria in sections (1), (2) and (5) on an ongoing basis.
- (7) The CTP has policies and procedures to facilitate halting or suspending deposits or purchases of the VRCA, or Crypto Contracts in respect of the VRCA, as quickly as is commercially reasonable, if the VRCA no longer satisfies the criteria in sections (1), (2) and (5).

- (8) The VRCA will be offered in a manner consistent with the representations in [description and date of CTP's exemptive relief decision (the Decision)] [description of and date of CTP's PRU (the PRU)] and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the [Decision][PRU], for the purposes of which the VRCA will be treated as a "Crypto Asset" and a "Specified Crypto Asset".
- (9) In these terms and conditions, terms have meanings set out in Appendix D of CSA SN 21-333.
